POSTAL MATTERS.

The Annual Report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Made Public.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY SERVICE.

During the Fiscal Year There Were 2,549 Post Offices Established and 5,587 Discontinued.

At Close of the Year There Were 71,131 Offices, 265 First, 1,204 Second, 3,896 Third and 65,766 Fourth Class.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Extension of the rural free delivery service has resulted in an increase of 1,125 in the number of post offices discontinued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, according to the annual report of J. L. Bristow, fourth assistant postmaster general, made public Friday. During the year there were 2,459 post offices established and 5,587 discontinued. There was a decrease of 158 in the number of offices established. The principal cause of the increase in discontinuances has been the extension of the rural free delivery service. The total number of discontinuances was 3,750 post offices, with a saving in salaries of postmasters aggregating $171,121. At the close of the fiscal year there were 71,131 post offices in the United States—265 first class, 1,204 second class, 3,896 third class and 65,766 fourth class.

Delivery of Small Packages.

Operation of rural mail delivery and the extension by private interests of rural telephone service has created a demand from patrons of rural routes for the delivery of small packages of merchandise on an order to local merchants by postal card, telephone or otherwise. The value of such packages is small and the present rate of one cent per ounce, the report says, is practically prohibitive. Mr. Bristow recommends that congress fix a rate of 3 cents per pound or any fractional part thereof on packages not exceeding five pounds, mailed at the distributing post office of any rural free delivery route. If this special rate were established, Mr. Bristow says, it would be a great convenience to patrons and become a source of revenue to the department.

More Rural Free Delivery Routes.

It is estimated that $500,000 will be needed by the department to continue the establishment of rural routes as fast as they are favorably reported and approved for the remainder of the current fiscal year. It is likely that 1,200 routes will be reported within the next two months and with this rate the appropriation available will be exhausted about January 15, 1905. An appropriation of $3,000,000 for the establishment of new routes will be asked by the department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906.

Of the needs for the service, Mr. Bristow says: "There are now in operation 28,073 routes. It is estimated that approximately 2,000 additional routes can be established out of the appropriation now available, making 30,073, which will be in operation or ordered established by January 15, 1905. To maintain service on these routes during the fiscal year from July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1906, will require $21,360,000."

FIRE AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Valuable Oil Paintings Destroyed—Thought to Be Incendiary.

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—A conflagration which gave the firemen a stubborn fight, and which, owing to the high wind, threatened the entire exposition grounds, was discovered in Ancient Rome on the Pike shortly after midnight.

The flames spread with great rapidity and destroyed part of Fair Japan, all of Quo Vadis, and the Streets of Rome. Flying sparks also caused incipient blazes on the roof of the Varied Industries building, but they were extinguished without great damage.

While Jefferson guards were in the rear of Hereafter, on the Pike, opposite the buildings that were on fire, they saw a light and pounded on the door for admission. After considerable delay they were admitted and found a pile of lighted newspapers in the middle of the floor. They arrested the man that opened the door, after he had given what they considered unsatisfactory replies to their questions. He gave the name of Arthur V. Dunn, and a charge was placed against him of "suspected arson." When he was searched, a hunting case watch and 11 ladies' hand bags were found.

In addition to the loss of the buildings, a collection of oil paintings, depicting scenes in the novel "Quo Vadis," valued at $75,000, were burned. They were painted by Jan Stayka, a Polish artist, and were brought to this country under a bond of $75,000.

CRUISER TENNESSEE.

The Vessel Launched From Cramps Shipyard, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—Gov. James B. Frazier, accompanied by his wife, his staff and a party of Tennesseans, arrived here Friday to participate in the launching of the United States armored cruiser Tennessee from Cramps shipyard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Miss Annie Keith Frazier, the governor's daughter, who acted as sponsor, accompanied by her friend, Miss E. Murray, reached the city shortly before the governor arrived. The young ladies came direct from Tarrytown, N. Y., where they are attending school. The governor received a cordial welcome upon his arrival. As he and his party entered the hotel an orchestra struck up "Dixie," which was the cause for much enthusiasm.

The Tennessee is a new type of high class, heavy fighting cruiser of 14,500 tons displacement, and will be one of the most formidable vessels of her class ever constructed. In all but a few details the Tennessee is a sister ship of the Colorado and the Pennsylvania. The contract price for the hull and machinery is $4,000,000.

FOUND DEAD IN A ROOM.

The Body of a Fashionably Attired Girl of 19 Years.

New York, Dec. 3.—Fashionably attired and wearing expensive jewels, the body of a girl, 19, was found in a room in a hotel at 138th street and Park avenue. Tied about the girl's neck was one end of a towel which had been fastened carefully with a safety pin, while the other end was tied to the bedpost. The body was found in a half-kneeling position, as though she had been strangled or had forcibly strangled herself by straining on the towel. Thursday night she went to the hotel with a man, who has since disappeared, and whose identity has not yet been discovered.

Luby, in charge of the United States naval recruiting station here, to enlist an unlimited number of apprentices, landsmen, carpenters, firemen, blacksmiths, shipwrights, painters, machinists and every other class of recruits. Commander Luby has decided to open a number of branch recruiting stations in cities in the central states and place members of his staff in charge during the winter months.

A TERRIBLE CRASH

A Passenger Train Running 50 Miles an Hour Ran Into a Construction Train on Siding.

FOUR KILLED AND OTHERS INJURED

The Fireman's Body Was Burned to a Crisp in His Engine Before Rescuers Could Reach Him.

The Act of Heroism of Badly Injured Brakeman George H. Graham Prevented Another and Perhaps More Serious Wreck.

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 3.—While running 50 miles an hour, north-bound passenger train No. 27, on the Pennsylvania road, Friday night ran into a construction train about two miles north of this city, instantly killing four men, fatally injuring at least one other and inflicting slight injuries upon a score of passengers.

The dead: Samuel Crow, Jeffersonville, passenger engineer; Herman C. Jones, Columbus, brakeman; E. W. Achenbach, Indianapolis, fireman, cremated; Calvin Prather, Sellersburg, fireman.

The passenger coaches did not leave the track and none of the passengers was badly injured. Fireman Achenbach's body was burned to a crisp in his engine before the rescuers could reach him. M. I. Kain, of Jeffersonville, engineer of the construction train, escaped with a broken leg.

The construction train was entering a siding south of Cornbrook and all of the train except the engine and one car were clear. As soon as news of the wreck reached this city a relief train with physicians was hurried to the scene. The bodies of the dead men were brought to Columbus as soon as they were removed from the wreck.

Responsibility Not Placed.

The passengers were brought back to this city, and many of them went to Indianapolis by way of the Interurban. The responsibility for the accident has not been placed.

Flagged the Other Train.

Calvin Prather, the injured fireman, died at the hospital here Friday night. An act of heroism that came to notice was performed by George H. Graham, of New Albany, brakeman of the passenger train. As soon as he recovered from the shock of the collision he realized that unless a flagman was sent ahead there was danger of another and perhaps even more serious wreck, as the south-bound passenger train was due to arrive in a very few minutes.

Though bruised and bleeding, he took a lantern and limped up the track to a safe distance, where he waited for the train and flagged it. He then collapsed and was brought to the hospital in this city, where he is receiving treatment. He will recover.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

He Will Take Charge of All Property of Mrs. Chadwick.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—Friday Nathan Loeser was appointed receiver for all the property of every kind and description belonging to Mrs. Cassie Chadwick. The receiver was appointed by Referee Harold Remington, who was empowered to act in the absence of United States District Judge Wing. Referee Remington fixed the bond of Mr. Loeser at $10,000. The latter is an attorney of this city. The plaintiffs in their petition declare "that within four months preceding the filing of this petition, while insolvent, Mrs. Chadwick paid to D. Wheaton & Son, of Cleveland, $700, with intent to prefer Wheaton over other creditors. The Wheatons are meat dealers."

ATTACKED HER CHILD.

With a Stool the Brave Mother Fought a Wild Cat.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Laura Burkhardt had a terrible battle with a wild cat in the upper part of Owsley county. Mrs. Burkhardt and her three-year-old daughter were at a gap milking when the wild cat appeared. The child was sitting on the ground and the cat leaped for it. It sprang too high and the child's screams attracted the mother, who turned in time to see the cat crouching for a second spring. The mother attacked it with a milk stool, and, grabbing the child under her arm, fought the beast bravely.

Mrs. Burkhardt is an athletic woman, and when she rained blow upon blow upon the cat's head it left her and attacked the cow, which ran into the woods. The cat then drank the milk in the pail, and the woman rushed to the house. Men hunted for the cat, but it had disappeared.

The dry weather, it is thought, rendered the cat ravenous from thirst. The woman's clothes were torn to shreds, but neither she nor the child was badly hurt.

THE BATE MURDER.

Inquiries Being Made As To Whereabouts of a Kentucky Man.

Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 3.—All the people in this city are greatly excited over some telegrams received by officials in this city from Chicago Friday, inquiring as to the whereabouts of W. H. Smith, a prominent young man formerly of this city, but who has been making his home in Chicago for some time, who is suspected of having been connected with the Bate auto murder at that place. Smith was here on a visit immediately after the murder, but has left the city. Detectives are reported on the road in pursuit of him. The telegrams referred to letters found in a grip by detectives in Chicago.

PARTIAL RELIEF.

A Drizzling Rain Fell in Davies County Friday Night.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 3.—The court of appeals has overruled the motion for a rehearing of the case of J. W. Bess, the local contractor under sentence of death for the slaying of Mrs. Martha Martin. The next step will be the naming of the day of his execution by Gov. Beckham.

COMING CONGRESS

Monday Noon the Second Session of the 58th Congress Will Convene.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TUESDAY.

After the Opening Day the Legislative Wheels Will Grind Steadily Until March 4, 1905.

There is Plenty of Work To Do, As the Calendars of Both Houses Are Loaded With Bills of All Kinds.

Washington, Dec. 3.—On the stroke of 12, Monday, the second session of the 58th congress will be called to order by President Pro Tem Frye in the senate and by Speaker Cannon in the house. When the gavel of the presiding officers summon the senators and representatives to duty nearly every member will be in his seat, but only routine business will be transacted. The regular resolutions of notification will be passed, committees to inform the president will be appointed and adjournment will follow out of respect for the deceased members. The president's message generally is received and read the first day, but the senate is punctilious in certain matters and is almost sure to adjourn as a tribute of respect to the late Senator Hoar and the late Senator Quay. The message, therefore, probably will not be read until Tuesday.

Regular Business of the Session.

After the opening day, when the message of the president is read, the regular business of the session will begin and the legislative wheels will grind steadily until March 4, 1905. There is plenty to do. The calendars of both houses are loaded with bills of all kinds; hundreds of new bills will be introduced and committees are ready to report enough to keep congress busy for 12 months, but in the three months congress probably will do little more than pass the regular annual appropriation bills. There has been some talk of a possible extra session.

The only reason why such a session should be called is because there is a demand in certain quarters for a revision of the tariff, but many of the incoming congressmen during the past two weeks have made it plain that they do not want tariff revision and further that they do not want an extra session.

Tariff Revision Talk.

There is one feature of the tariff revision talk that has some substance. More revenue must be had or there must be a curtailment of expenditures. With the increasing annual appropriations, a river and harbor bill, increase of the navy, the Panama canal and other features of extraordinary disbursement, there will be need of more money than present customs and internal revenues provide. An intimation has been made that curtailment will satisfy many congressional leaders, but the majority may determine otherwise. In which event some revenue legislation may be necessary, and an extra session for that purpose may be called. But this is said to be a remote contingency and the probabilities, according to the leaders who are here, are that there will be neither tariff legislation nor an extra session.

NEAR MUKDEN.

Sounds of Rapid Cannonading Heard on the Russian Front.

Mukden, Dec. 3.—From 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon until late Friday night sounds of a rapid cannonading have been heard on the Russian southwest front, such as has not been experienced here for a long time; but no excitement has been caused by the incident. Gen. Rennenkampf, with his cavalry, is following the retreating Japanese, giving them no time to occupy a position. It seems that the Japanese in attempting to seize Russian positions, recently, so extended themselves as to deplete their reserves.

FOOD ADULTERATION.

Speaking before the students of the College of the City of New York, Dr. H. W. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture, declared that the adulteration of food and drugs had done more toward lowering the moral life of this country than the rum traffic.

He pointed out the evil effects of food adulteration upon the physical system and strongly appealed to the students to make it one of the principles of their lives to fight this growing menace to the health of the American people.

Among other examples of adulteration he stated that the product of a widely advertised Vermont sugar bush was made in Chicago and that this Chicago plant turned out more so-called maple sugar in one month than the whole State of Vermont could produce in a year.

The bright green color of imported peas, he said, was obtained by the use of sulphate of copper, which was very injurious to health.

French white wines contained large quantities of sulphurous acid, put in it to make the color lighter and to better preserve it. It was very dangerous to the health and natives of France would not drink it. He believed in time that the importation of such wines would be prohibited. He favored the law in this country similar to the English "mercantile marking act," which requires that all commodities be so marked that the purchaser may know exactly what he is getting.

Dr. Wiley said he had no objection to an American citizen eating or drinking whatever he desired, provided he knew what he was doing; but he objected to fraud and deception. He pointed out that the great bulk of foods were now obtained from outside manufacturers instead of being made by housewives, as was done fifty years ago, and that this very fact called for closer scrutiny of what came to the table.

"The adulteration of food and drugs," he said, "had done more to sap the moral life of this country than the rum trade ever thought of doing. Do you wonder in a country in which a young man is reared where the people countenance the adulteration of foods and the fraud of selling these goods, where he learns that any method of making money is not frowned upon, that in after life he becomes a defaulter in a big banking institution? His education unconsciously has been along those lines. He wants to make money and his method is little different from that of the dishonest manufacturer."

"THE LAYING ON OF HANDS."

Griffith's Remedy, if Properly Applied, Will Cure the Most Obstinate Cases of Cigarette Habit.

Parents ought to rejoice over the fact that the means are at hand, and in their hands, without money or price, to cure their sons of the dreadful cigarette habit.

The remedy is so simple that it is a wonder it has not been often tried.

George Griffith says he gave the recipe to a cross-eyed woman once who applied a double-dose to each of her two red-headed, freckle-faced boys, and he affirms the trick is turned simply by the "laying on of hands."

Here is how the medicine is applied:

The left hand should be placed upon the neck of the youngster, with a gentle though firm pressure forward and downward, bringing the urchin in the proper attitude over the parental knee; then apply the right hand where it will do the most good. Two or three treatments will effect a cure. In chronic cases a paddle with holes in it, will be needed as a substitute for the hand.

In severely chronic cases, several strokes of a sledge hammer may be necessary to complete the cure.

Eddie Guilfoyle is now baggagemaster at the C. and O. depot.

THE COURT'S OPINION

Overruling the Motion to Dissolve Injunctions Requiring Election Officers to Count the Votes For Bennett.

Following is the opinion of a majority of the members of the Court of Appeals overruling the motion to dissolve the mandatory injunctions in the Harrison and Fleming County precincts requiring election officers to count the disputed vote for Bennett:

The principle is well established that a mandatory injunction will not lie against an officer to compel the performance of a duty which is in his nature judicial, but only where the duty is ministerial. It is evident that these votes were cast for plaintiff Bennett and that he is entitled to them. There is no pretense that the officers referred to were guilty of any wrongful or improper conduct. The only reason why plaintiff was in danger of losing these votes was because of the inadvertence or oversight of the election officers. The persons who cast these votes and the plaintiff should not lose them on this account. If there was anything in the record showing any fraudulent or improper conduct or acts of these officials, or anything impugning the verity of these votes, the case would be different. The facts of this case make it appear that the only thing to be done, the certifying of the votes by these officials, are ministerial acts.

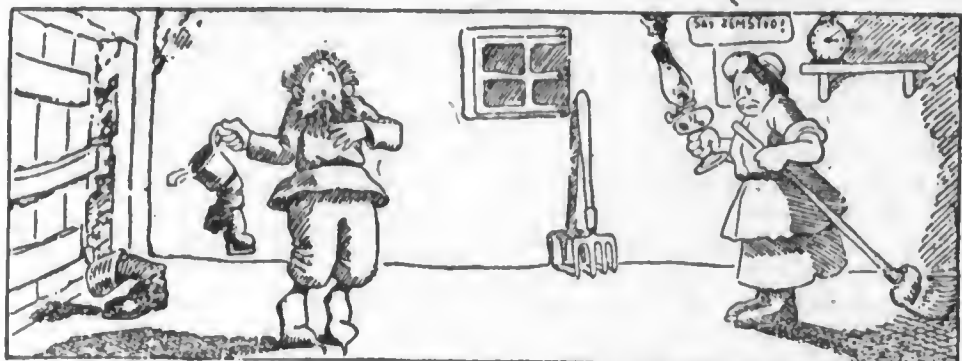

The defendants claim that a mandatory injunction ought not to be resorted to when the party seeking it has an adequate remedy for redress at law. We agree to this proposition, but it does not appear that the plaintiff has such a remedy. If he is elected to Congress he is entitled to the certificate of election, which is of great value to him, and he has no other means of obtaining this certificate. It is possibly true, if elected, he might succeed in getting the office by contest in Congress, yet he would not get the certificate of election. The person receiving the highest number of votes is entitled to the certificate of election, and this cannot be awarded him in a contest. This certificate has an intrinsic value. It is the evidence of the election of the person holding it to the office claimed. As it cannot be rightfully withheld from the person receiving the highest number of votes, and as the law provides no other remedy by which it can be obtained, the Circuit Court must have the power in all cases in which it is improperly refused to reach the officers who are delinquent in their ministerial duties.

For these reasons a majority of the members of this court are of opinion that the motions to dissolve the orders granting the injunctions herein be overruled, which is accordingly done.

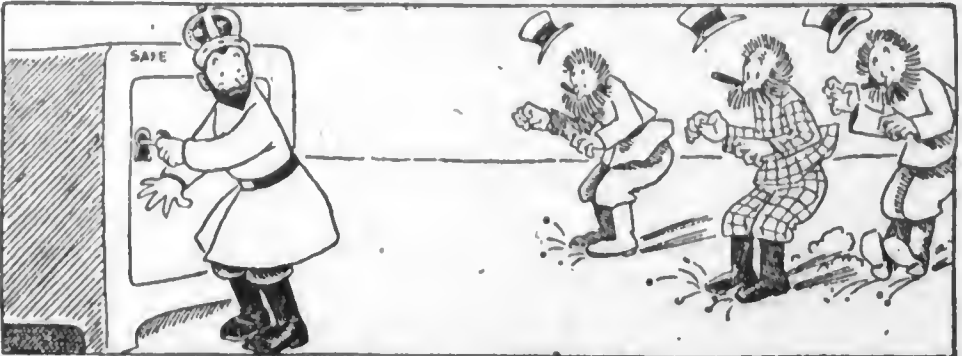

When asked for an expression of opinion Congressman Kehoe said:

"I was elected by the people, but Bennett has been elected by the courts. I

The Effective Remedy

WASHINGTON, IOWA, April 4, 1903.

I was troubled for over a year with so scanty a flow that it was virtually suppression. A heavy cold superinduced this condition and nothing I could do seemed to help me. The only effective remedy I ever found was Wine of Cardui. Within two weeks I felt the good effects of the medicine and after I had used 13 bottles in all I was as healthy and regular as any woman could wish to be.

My sister used it while expecting to become a mother and found that it made childbirth comparatively easy and after the child was born she found that it helped her to regain her strength.

KENTUCKY AT THE FINISH.

The State's Building Appropriately Devoted on the Closing Day of the World's Fair.

Kentucky was gloriously in at the World's Fair finish. She came down the stretch with colors flying as the great exposition came to an end. The almost record-breaking crowd for "Francis Day" did the usual amount of homage to the new Kentucky home. The interior of the building had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, a large picture of President David R. Francis forming a centerpiece with the words, "He Was Bred in Old Kentucky." Secretary R. E. Hughes of the Kentucky Commission was a member of the escort of honor to President Francis from the Administration building to the Louisiana Purchase monument on the plaza of St. Louis for the closing exercises. Among the many presents to the distinguished head of the great exposition were two from Kentuckians, a head of Abraham Lincoln burned from Kentucky clay from the farm in Madison County, where Mr. Francis first saw the light of day, sent by C. L. Searcy of Waco and the largest twist of tobacco ever made, sent by Samuel Britton of Fulton.

The close of the fair finds every piece of furniture, all the carpets and draperies in the Kentucky building sold with the exception of two chairs. The sale from the building may reach $3,000.

Asparagus and small peas—Calhoun's.

The New York Dramatic Mirror correspondents at Gallipolis, Pomeroy and other points say "A Devil's Lane" played to large audiences and gave splendid satisfaction. At opera house this afternoon and night.

Mr. Ezekiel Beasley was in town Friday en route to his home at Stanford. He has been in a Covington hospital for about eight weeks and has recovered sufficiently to resume his run as mail clerk on the L. and N. next week.

Harry Carter, leading man with the Kintzing Comic Opera Company, presenting "El Capitan," left the company at Middletown, O., Thursday evening without notifying the manager, and the play could not be put on. The troupe's money was returned, and the manager wired to New York for another man to fill the engagement here, but he must have been unsuccessful in securing the proper talent, for last night's date had to be canceled.

The C. and O. yards at Covington and the sidings for a long distance outside of the city are filled with cars of coal which have not been received by another road for which they were intended. In consequence of this congestion of business nearly all C. and O. trains are delayed, and it is seldom that one is on time. The same thing happened last year. When Chicago and the west were suffering for fuel miles of side-track were covered with loaded cars that were not moved until the price got right at Chicago and other points.

The merchants of Shelbyville have organized for the purpose of fighting what they believe to be an unjust discrimination on the part of the Adams and Southern Express Companies. Suit was filed for the delivery of an express package consigned to a merchant there. The company had declined to deliver the package unless a charge of 2 cents in addition to the regular cost of carriage was paid. The extra charge is made for the purpose of accumulating a fund sufficient to pay the license tax imposed on express companies by the city of Shelbyville. The merchants contend that they should not be compelled to pay the taxes of express companies, and the suit will be fought to a finish.

The Chicago Record-Herald remarks that the Oklahoma man who spanked his mother-in-law a few days ago is probably wondering why nobody has suggested a public testimonial for him.

STOVES!

All of the best makes of Stoves and Ranges sold by

W. F. POWER, the Stove Man.

The Home Store!

From the old man down to the least important salesman in our house we are a lot of "cranks." We sell hundreds of suits that the purchaser would never notice a slight deficiency in the fit. "We do," and do not let them go out of the house unless the fault is corrected. The aggregate cost of these alterations, many of them so slight that only the most experienced clothier can detect them, amounts to several hundreds of dollars a year, but the satisfaction of giving our patrons perfect fitting clothes more than compensates us for this "cranky" outlay. Besides "it pays." Our customers feel themselves safe in our hands, knowing their interest is looked to as well as ours. Special low prices will rule during this month.

ECONOMY

It is invariably the result when in buying eatables you buy the best. Never buy anything to eat when not good because it looks cheap. It is dear at any price. In these days of adulteration and low priced foods it becomes the duty of every one to scan closely what he buys and reject everything of a suspicious character. In order to be on the safe side always buy of the experienced dealer who knows the good from the bad and who will not handle impure and poisonous goods. I am now opening an unusually large and most attractive stock of high grade goods for the fall and winter trade.

New Crop New Orleans Molasses

direct from the plantation to the consumer. No better made. FINEST SORGHUM ever sold in Maysville. The only trouble is in getting as much of it as I can sell. My stock of CANNED GOODS is immense—bought direct from the packers. When prices were very much lower than they are now I bought heavily of Green Coffee and am in position to name very attractive prices on either green or roasted goods. I get in each week a supply of freshly roasted goods from the roasting house in New York where I have my Coffee for roasting stored, and can sell you better Coffee at 15, 20 and 25 cents than others sell at 20, 25 and 30 cents. My stock of Teas—green and black is always full and complete.

PERFECTION FLOUR

is the finest flour sold in Maysville. In fact it has no superior anywhere. My stock of Apples, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, Figs, Citron, Orange and Lemon Peel, Dates, Raisins, Atmore's Mince Meat and Plum Pudding, Prunes, Buckwheat Flour, Maple Syrup, White Clover Honey, Cereals of all kinds, Hominy, Beans &c. of the very best. Ladenburger's Crab Cider, Baltimore Oysters in bulk and cans, Celery, Cranberries, Poultry and Game, in fact everything good to eat of the very best. Look out for my holiday special and when you come to our city you are specially invited to make my house your headquarters. Remember, I buy all kinds of country produce such as Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game &c. Will buy one hundred extra cured old Country Hams in weight from ten to fifteen pounds each.

Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market street. In a very short time I was cured of backache which had troubled me for some time. I gave some to a friend who suffered greatly from kidney ailments and he said the results obtained from their use proved that Doan's Kidney Pills are a preparation which possesses remarkable value."
